Re: Your study protocol # NA_001587 titled: "Glycogen Quantification Using MRI"

As you requested, I evaluated the safety of the following device that will be used in your study described above.

Resonant Research, Coil Interface, Serial Number 001.

Based on my examination, testing and review of your documents I am satisfied that this device and its peripherals are safe to use on study patients.

Clinical Engineering Services approves of the Resonant Research, coil interface system for use in this protocol. If you have any questions, please contact me by phone at 5-2100 ext.107 or via E-mail skent2@jhmi.edu.
